

The List of International Schools in The Netherlands

Including European and foreign national schools.

In The Netherlands you will find private international schools, as well as subsidized international education at so-called Dutch International Schools*, which feature an international curriculum taught in English according to the international standard at a relatively low fee compared to private schools.

All Dutch International Secondary Schools offer the IB Diploma Program in its final two years, and the ISH The Hague the IBCP in Business as well per August 2017.!

SECONDARY VOCATIONAL EDUCATION MBO

If a student has successfully completed the (I)GCSE or IB-MYP but is not admitted to the IB-Diploma Program, the MBO (3-4 years) might be a good option. In the Netherlands students can follow several English language programs in e.g. Business and Hospitality (www.mbo-raad.nl).

Students with the (I)GCSE Diploma (with at least 4 subjects at A* - C) plus GCE (with two subjects at AS-level) are eligible for admission to HBO (see below).

The IB-Organization has developed a new curriculum, the IBCP (Career-related Program, www.ibo.org/cp) as an alternative of the IBDP for the final two high school years.

The BSN in Voorschoten is currently the only school in the Netherlands offering this program in Business and in Hospitality. The International School of The Hague* will offer the IBCP in Business per August 2017.

THIRD LEVEL EDUCATION

HBO, Hogeschool or “University of Applied Sciences” teach 3rd level vocational education, while Universities offer academic education or third level degree-education. You may check www.studyinholland.nl, www.studyportals.eu, and www.duo.nl for more information.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE SCHOOLS

If you are looking for an after school language program of your native language at primary and/or secondary school level, it is best to contact your embassy for more information.
